

Ingo Lorenz – Ana-Logue Aphorisms and Quotations

© www.MonaAndIngo.de/Poetry-Corner

© 2023 by Ingo Lorenz

translated from German to English by the author with the help of DeepL

Cover picture and page background:
I. Lorenz, Foot in the Water; Berlin; 2015;
Photo-Collage and Painting; (c) M&I Art Museum

Ingo Lorenz – Ana-Logue Aphorisms and Quotations

I cry tears for you ... I cry your tears too ...

Ingo Lorenz

Let us keep the great moments in our hearts, even if they are short-lived – so that we can live from them forever.

Ingo Lorenz

Never the brightest sunshine may come close to a girl's smile.

Ingo Lorenz

Hold your camera on a woman - and remember to capture every single frame.

Ingo Lorenz

Some things I don't want to think about anymore. Many things shall stay with me forever.

Ingo Lorenz

I make a religion mine ... and no religion makes me ...

Ingo Lorenz

When there is lightning and no more thunder, then you know something terrible has happened.

Robert Lorenz

Ingo Lorenz – Ana-Logue Aphorisms and Quotations

We may be with a partner – but our two hearts are infinite in twice-infinite dimensions.

Ingo Lorenz

Anyone who thinks that money doesn't make people happy is mistaken. It makes us happy – for the moment that someone buys us because of the money.

Ingo Lorenz

Turkey is the beef among the fowl.

Ingo Lorenz

Speak more slowly, not louder, on a poor digital phone connection. Explain something to someone with all patience that she or he does not immediately understand – and never in a louder tone.

Ingo Lorenz

Do not hold on to that which harms you just because it keeps you in a supposedly deceptive security.

Ingo Lorenz

Ingo Lorenz – Ana-Logue Aphorisms and Quotations

If you square a lot, you should sometimes also take a root.

Ingo Lorenz

If a butterfly settles on your hand, surely have something good for him or her.

Ingo Lorenz

The boys who truly love do not stand out, are inconspicuous. They meet you where you think of nothing, in a place where only one heart can feel the other.

Ingo Lorenz

We will never really understand them, but we may always really love them.

Ingo Lorenz

We will never achieve this dreamlike-ness – as much as we are so often allowed to participate in it.

Ingo Lorenz

Who I don't like, didn't like me at first.

Ingo Lorenz

Ingo Lorenz – Ana-Logue Aphorisms and Quotations

Breathe deeply with a great moment you are in right now. Take it in and feel it in every corner of your body.

Ingo Lorenz

If we are looking for a loving heart, we must be such a heart so that it may be found.

Ingo Lorenz

In my next life I'll be a girl, have great photos taken of me, post them and get thousands of likes. Oh, wasn't there something else – “way up, way up ... for a moment”?

Ingo Lorenz

A man who oppresses or even defiles a woman deserves neither a woman nor the presence of a woman any more or ever. A man who lovingly reaches out to a woman deserves to be a woman for that moment.

Ingo Lorenz

There are things that pass me by – just as people pass me by.

Ingo Lorenz

Ingo Lorenz – Ana-Logue Aphorisms and Quotations

Once you have entered my heart, you can never leave it again.

Ingo Lorenz

If our women and girls have to justify themselves for being women and girls, we are at the end of our modern culture on the way back to the Middle Ages – where even torture and humiliation gave some men their thrills.

Ingo Lorenz

Arrogance coupled with the belief to be untouchable and invulnerable leads some people over and over again to the madness of disappointing and hurting other people; and this in such a way that it already appears as normality.

Ingo Lorenz

*Why do words of love spread so slowly on Facebook & Co.
Because they do not confirm the opinion of most people.*

Ingo Lorenz

Let us take other people with us with what makes us happy, and share these moments with them honestly.

Ingo Lorenz

Ingo Lorenz – Ana-Logue Aphorisms and Quotations

You see the world with different eyes when you let someone who loves you lead you by the hand with your eyes closed.

Ingo Lorenz

We cannot make you feel anything; however, we can help you sort out your sensations so that you feel something more strongly or feel something the way you have never felt before.

Dr. phil. Manfred Heinemann, Head of the Institute for Psychology and Sociology in LL 22.

This institute is fictional, as is Manfred a fictional character from many short stories by the author himself, written for and published by www.fireloveswater.net.

The product of many women's appearance with their reaction then to a smile is a constant K – in place to be proportional to the square of the appearance itself.

Ingo Lorenz

Also express how much you feel for a person by rejoicing with that person in everything that pleases her or himself and wants to give her or him joy.

Ingo Lorenz

Ingo Lorenz – Ana-Logue Aphorisms and Quotations

Most people act without thinking about God.

A great many people act according to what they think they know about God.

A certain number of people act according to the instruction of what they think is God.

Only a few people act in daily dialogue with God.

Ingo Lorenz

I have no opinion.

> amen -disconnect

Ingo Lorenz

Out of impotence we call for someone to crack down hard – and years later we call again for someone to crack down on that someone.

Ingo Lorenz

You can try to capture the mystique of a place in a picture. You can only experience the mystique of a person if you become one with him or her..

Ingo Lorenz

Ingo Lorenz – Ana-Logue Aphorisms and Quotations

We are allowed to love ourselves – and to say, “You are a dream”, too.

But let us beware of the arrogance of “I am a dream”.

Ingo Lorenz

In search of the great love, I found the greatest disappointments. After the greatest disappointment, I found the greatest love.

Ingo Lorenz

When will someone advise me to do something that I really enjoy, that I'm committed to, that I can do and that ultimately gives me a sense of achievement from the first microsecond?

Ingo Lorenz

Sometimes you get it as a gift ...

Often you are only shown it ...

Ingo Lorenz

We have a wrong understanding of freedom when we harm, humiliate, discriminate, or even hurt other people for this instead of honouring, integrating, protecting and loving them.

Ingo Lorenz

Ingo Lorenz – Ana-Logue Aphorisms and Quotations

In some countries you get locked up even though you have done nothing wrong.

In some countries you have done something wrong, and you don't get locked up.

Ingo Lorenz

I like to watch you all read.

You all may like to watch me write.

Ingo Lorenz

Sometimes I have a thousand things in my heart and in my head - but only one mouth to speak, two lips to smile, two hands to write and two eyes to shine.

Ingo Lorenz

I could also generally do without so-called strokes of fate that are justified with ominous teachings for oneself.

Ingo Lorenz

In the sense of the natural world, there is good and evil. There are people who have to rejoice more or suffer more because of their nature.

In the sense of the spiritual world, there is only love.

Ingo Lorenz

Ingo Lorenz – Ana-Logue Aphorisms and Quotations

People who follow a certain fetish are only discriminated against by the people who don't dare to follow this style – and not by the people who simply don't want to follow it.

Ingo Lorenz

It is often the banalities in the eyes of others that arouse the highest feelings between two people.

Ingo Lorenz

We think we'd be happier if we were a top model or an Olympic champion – maybe we'd just be happier.

Ingo Lorenz

I often don't have the leisure and opportunity to take great pictures, let alone the intention to high jack any.

Therefore, I leave it to you to create images in yourselves with my words.

Ingo Lorenz

Some people don't need words to tell you something when you mean a lot to them. They just need their hands to do it.

Ingo Lorenz

Ingo Lorenz – Ana-Logue Aphorisms and Quotations

By the way, the subscription to my smile is free.

Ingo Lorenz

If art – by which I mean visual art, literature and music in equal measure – went the normal way, it would be nowhere near as exciting, or even quite boring.

Ingo Lorenz

... ..

(something words cannot express)

Ingo Lorenz

When my lips move silently, my heart sings the most beautiful song for you.

Ingo Lorenz

Some paths in life are like the path to the Karren in Dornbirn: first it's a very steep climb, then it's a leisurely one across there.

Ingo Lorenz

Ingo Lorenz – Ana-Logue Aphorisms and Quotations

*Too often, too much religion,
Too often, too little God.*

Ingo Lorenz

We try to put sense where there is none in much that happens to us, just to reassure ourselves that everything makes some kind of sense.

Ingo Lorenz

Only when you love truly and sincerely do you realise how wonderful a sweetheart feels.

Ingo Lorenz

*When you forget everything around you, you are one with your sweetheart.
If not, then you are either not one with her or him – or you are just carrying her or him with you through your world.*

Ingo Lorenz

It is already a good piece of wealth if, between all the moments of the unattainable or unaffordable, you manage and deal with yourself very well.

Ingo Lorenz

Ingo Lorenz – Ana-Logue Aphorisms and Quotations

A white ceiling that threatens to fall on your head can be painted with the vastness of the sky in your own imagination.

Ingo Lorenz

I always had to wait for the world, while it never came – while it never expected me, while I was always there.

Ingo Lorenz

We show our greatest works of art in galleries and museums.

So – don't hide yourself.

Ingo Lorenz

Silence is gold..., but silence hurts. Life is just like Expectasy for you.

Griya Cantika Putri

Expectasy is possibly an artificial word made up of extasy and expectation, which cannot be translated.

Sometimes silence is louder than 130 dB.

Ingo Lorenz

Ingo Lorenz – Ana-Logue Aphorisms and Quotations

I don't believe that brawn is the biggest sausage.

I don't think brawn is a sausage.

Ingo Lorenz

There are many things that the world does not need. Contrary to many opinions, love is one of those things.

Ingo Lorenz

They say you are the blacksmith of your own luck – and yet you don't always have the right hammer, anvil or workpiece to hand.

Ingo Lorenz

No religion can forbid us things that even God would do.

Ingo Lorenz

If society does not respect us because of something that harms no one and disadvantages no one, we may respect ourselves even more for that.

Ingo Lorenz

Ingo Lorenz – Ana-Logue Aphorisms and Quotations

When I talk to a friend, I like to hear what she or he is saying right now – not read a book about my friend.

Ingo Lorenz

If you are angry with someone, give him or her a little more than you would have expected.

Ingo Lorenz

Where people preach hate, God can hardly inspire love.

Ingo Lorenz

There are cultures where men are brought up in such a way that women have to be hidden from them and covered up.

There are cultures where people are brought up in such a way that you have to hide yourself to not be loved.

Ingo Lorenz

Those who love are not in competition, no, love only multiplies and potentiates itself.

Ingo Lorenz

Ingo Lorenz – Ana-Logue Aphorisms and Quotations

Everyone talks about integration – only they lack the quadrature algorithm.

Ingo Lorenz

You see people who pretend to be kind everywhere. People who are kind are hardly noticeable.

Ingo Lorenz

I like people who radio a bit off channel. There is often less QRM there.

Ingo Lorenz

In my next life I can box, I'm strong like a bear – and a girl.

Ingo Lorenz

What stops me from becoming an actor is not something that I hadn't met a producer yet, but that I could never remember the text.

Ingo Lorenz

It is easier to feast on the weaknesses and faults of others than to feast the others because of their weaknesses and faults.

Ingo Lorenz

Ingo Lorenz – Ana-Logue Aphorisms and Quotations

I don't want to be able to read your mind - but I love to feel your heart.

Ingo Lorenz

I had enough of these three things in my life: Unkindness, ignorance and oatmeal.

Ingo Lorenz

As much as I like to give butterflies my hand to rest with me, I give my heart to hearts.

Ingo Lorenz

It is a dance ...

In which we are one ...

Without fear of the consequences, that we are how we are.

Ingo Lorenz

Only love makes life to life.

Otherwise, it would only be an aimless biological interaction.

Ingo Lorenz

Ingo Lorenz – Ana-Logue Aphorisms and Quotations

Those who think that religionisation brings us closer to God are mistaken. It only takes us further away from ourselves.

Ingo Lorenz

Whereas narcissism, in my eyes, is a contract with oneself, pure self-love is real because it is directed directly from our hearts to our own hearts that are open to it.

Ingo Lorenz

Friendship plus is the concept of excuse to share more with each other in a friendship than someone gives you permission for and you would have given yourself credit for.

Ingo Lorenz

A country will never be itself if its people let themselves be determined by a foreign system and believe that it is their own attitude.

Ingo Lorenz

Cultures. in which people trade with themselves for the preservation of the species and entertainment, may delete the term love from their vocabulary. Otherwise, there is a danger of confusion.

Ingo Lorenz

Ingo Lorenz – Ana-Logue Aphorisms and Quotations

If we want to understand each other, then we must also dare to do this and admit it.

Ingo Lorenz

There are things you just have to have fun doing them – otherwise it's no fun.

Ingo Lorenz

Don't expect much from yourself – but be yourself.

Ingo Lorenz

Many pious people they talk about love in terms of faith, but they attribute eroticism to the devil. They do not consider who designed all the hardware, drivers and the app for eroticism.

Ingo Lorenz

Does a big wallet also make a breast big - like a big breast also makes a wallet big.

Ingo Lorenz

*Your belly tingles - and your heart tells her*him something sweet.*

Ingo Lorenz

I am there - but I have not arrived yet.

Ingo Lorenz

Ingo Lorenz – Ana-Logue Aphorisms and Quotations

After this salad bomb, I need something good.

Ingo Lorenz

Giving gas was yesterday; today we give current.

Ingo Lorenz

Empathy seems to be just food that you can throw away if it doesn't taste good.

Ingo Lorenz

The paradox of onions reflects a society: an excess of onions eaten on the one hand and the discrediting of any fart on the other.

Ingo Lorenz

After all the technical progress, when will society also learn to love? I mean: to Love.

Ingo Lorenz

Many people look at me strangely when I am in town. Thank you for your compliment.

Ingo Lorenz

Ingo Lorenz – Ana-Logue Aphorisms and Quotations

So often it appears to me that some parents have forgotten that they were once children themselves.

Ingo Lorenz

Kant is dead, Kalle is dead, I'm already feeling quite sick, too.

Ingo Lorenz

Time had not healed my wounds; instead, chocolate sweetened time for me.

Ingo Lorenz

Sometimes, I no longer know where I belong. Then I remember that I don't belong anywhere, but everything may belong to me.

Ingo Lorenz

Such a natural cork, that really does have some different bang in it.

Ingo Lorenz

Sometimes, I no longer know where I belong. Then I remember that I don't belong anywhere, but everything may belong to me.

Ingo Lorenz

Ingo Lorenz – Ana-Logue Aphorisms and Quotations

Tomorrow morning at the latest, that's when the paper trash goes out.

Ingo Lorenz

It doesn't have to be such a terrible bacon rind on it either.

Ingo Lorenz – in the context of a cooking show

As long as hacking is treated like children's play, software will never grow up.

Ingo Lorenz

Where do you think the real patients are? Inside or outside the hospital?

Unnamed specialist in psychiatry

One death we will have to die.

Ingo Lorenz -- on two alternatives of a necessary change in a technical system

Just because a society could do it today, it will not destroy itself after 150,000 years of history.

Ingo Lorenz

When he dreams about this tonight, it does a rumble every twenty seconds.

A former colleague when we had run a train on a simulator program.

Ingo Lorenz – Ana-Logue Aphorisms and Quotations

Except for maybe once a day I have to go to the loo for big, I don't have to do anything at all, not anything.

Ingo Lorenz

Whoever wants to possess a person, robs him or her of all breath and erases his or her shine.

Whoever loves a person, breathes her or him and gives her or him even more radiance.

Ingo Lorenz

A pendulum prefers to rest in the extremes rather than in the zero crossing.

Ingo Lorenz -- Social extremes like to have a greater appeal than the balanced middle, where there is only motion and no tension.

Interpretations seem to be invented only for German lessons. But they can be so interesting that I allow myself to do them again today.

Ingo Lorenz

Mainly strachy waxy salad commodity ...

Ingo Lorenz

He who believes will be blessed; he who eats tatties will go starchy.

Female author no longer known